Need for the Project: Karumanchi in Gutur District has a population of 7000. The village economy is mainly based on agriculture. The village have many migrants arrived from Prakasam district who started working as daily labor and slowly established the village as their home. The village is in need of a crematorium with good sanitation. The current place is in very bad condition. There is no roof and it is very hard to complete the rituals of the demised people. The approach road is full of ditches and very convenient. Providing a clean environment to perform the very important ritual of everyone's live will give happiness to the people attended as well as the souls that are departed.
Project Requirement: AP Janmabhoomi a Government of Andhra Pradesh entity for NRIs, have the program to build crematoriums provided 30% of the funds are contributed by NRIs. The sponsor of this project wanted to fully contribute 30% of the funds to this project and complete with the help of Albany Andhra Association and AP Janmabhoomi
